

Veto

Texas government is full of strange bedfellows.

The Executive branch blusters, overshadows,
and expects the House to perform kowtows.

The race to be more conservative is always needed,
even to the degree of making reason impeded.

The governor's use of the veto has become quite heated.

Veto and signings, blocking and agreeing, denying mail-in ballots to the un-seeing no local rules for outside workers for water or peeing.

Cutting off funding for the legislative bunch
because they walked out and went to lunch.

Veto extortion seems to be the rabbit punch.

Infighting has begun with the dictators clashing.

Lt Guv and Guv, their words bashing.

An interesting summer, simply smashing.
